Tax collectors and sinners were all drawing near to listen to Jesus, but the Pharisees and scribes began to complain, saying, "This man welcomes sinners and eats with them." So to them Jesus addressed this parable: "A man had two sons, and the younger son said to his father, 'Father give me the share of your estate that should come to me.' So the father divided the property between them. After a few days, the younger son collected all his belongings and set off to a distant country where he squandered his inheritance on a life of dissipation. When he had freely spent everything, a severe famine struck that country, and he found himself in dire need. So he hired himself out to one of the local citizens who sent him to his farm to tend the swine. And he longed to eat his fill of the pods on which the swine fed, but nobody gave him any. Coming to his senses he thought, 'How many of my father's hired workers have more than enough food to eat, but here am I, dying from hunger. I shall get up and go to my father and I shall say to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I no longer deserve to be called your son; treat me as you would treat one of your hired workers.'" So he got up and went back to his father. While he was still a long way off, his father caught sight of him, and was filled with compassion. He ran to his son, embraced him and kissed him. His son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you; I no longer deserve to be called your son.' But his father ordered his servants, 'Quickly bring the finest robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. Take the fattened calf and slaughter it. Then let us celebrate with a feast, because this son of mine was dead, and has come to life again; he was lost, and has been found.' Then the celebration began. Now the older son had been out in the field and, on his way back, as he neared the house, he heard the sound of music and dancing. He called one of the servants and asked what this might mean. The servant said to him, 'Your brother has returned and your father has slaughtered the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.' He became angry, and when he refused to enter the house, his father came out and pleaded with him. He said to his father in reply, 'Look, all these years I served you and not once did I disobey your orders; yet you never gave me even a young goat to feast on with my friends. But when your son returns who swallowed up your property with prostitutes, for him you slaughter the fattened calf.' He said to him, 'My son, you are here with me always; everything I have is yours. But now we must celebrate and rejoice, because your brother was dead and has come to life again; he was lost and has been found.'

Brief Comment

In this chapter, Jesus is criticized by the religious leaders who disagree with his association with sinners and tax collectors. This opposition sets the stage for the three parables known as the parables of mercy. These parables are bound together by the joy of finding that which was lost, in this case, sinners and outcasts. The third parable is probably the most famous for its message and its beauty. The story is really about a father whose love for his two sons breaks through all the customs of the time. Under Jewish law the first-born son received a double share of the inheritance (Deut 21:17). The younger son in this story is entitled to only a third which he demands and then leaves. After calamity forces him to return home, he is welcomed by his father with open arms and no regrets, just the joy of having recovered his son. This familiar first part of the story continues with a second event, the anger of the older son. The father also goes out to this son who refuses to enter the house. He affirms the young man's faithfulness, but invites him to join in the joy of the brother who was lost and has been found.

En aquel tiempo, solían acercarse a Jesús los publicanos y los pecadores a escucharle. Y los fariseos y los escribas murmuraban entre ellos: Ése acoge a los pecadores y come con ellos. Jesús les dijo esta parábola: "Un hombre tenía dos hijos; el menor de ellos dijo a su padre: Padre, dame la parte que me toca de la fortuna. El padre les repartió los bienes. No muchos días después, el hijo menor, juntando todo lo suyo, emigró a un país lejano, y allí derrochó su fortuna viviendo perdidamente. Cuando lo había gastado todo, vino por aquella tierra un hambre terrible, y empezó él a pasar necesidad. Fue entonces y tanto le insistió a un habitante de aquel país que lo mandó a sus campos a guardar cerdos. Le entraban ganas de llenarse el estómago de las algarrobas que comían los cerdos; y nadie le daba de comer. Recapitando entonces, se dijo: "Cuántos jornaleros de mi padre tienen abundancia de pan, mientras yo aquí me muero de hambre. Me pondré en camino adonde está mi padre, y le diré: Padre, he pecado contra el cielo y contra ti; ya no merezco llamarme hijo tuyo: trátame como a uno de tus jornaleros." Se puso en camino a donde estaba su padre; cuando todavía estaba lejos, su padre lo vio y se conmovió; y, echando a correr, se le echó al cuello y se puso a besarlo. Su hijo le dijo: "Padre, he pecado contra el cielo y contra ti; ya no merezco llamarme hijo tuyo. Pero el padre dijo a sus criados: "Sacad en seguida el mejor traje y vestido; ponle un anillo en la mano y sandalias en los pies; traed el ternero cebado y matadlo; celebremos un banquete, porque este hijo mío estaba muerto y ha revivido; estaba perdido, y lo hemos encontrado. Y empezaron el banquete. Su hijo mayor estaba en el campo. Cuando al volver se acercaba a la casa, oyó la música y el baile, y llamando a uno de los mozos, le preguntó qué pasaba. Este le contestó: "Ha vuelto tu hermano; y tu padre ha matado el ternero cebado, porque lo ha recobrado con salud." El se indignó y se negaba a entrar; pero su padre salió e intentaba persuadirlo. Y el replicó a su padre: "Mira: en tantos años como te sirvo, sin desobedecer nunca una orden tuya, a mí nunca me has dado un cabrito para tener un banquete con mis amigos; y cuando ha venido ese hijo tuyo que se ha comido tus bienes con malas mujeres, le matas el ternero cebado. El padre le dijo: Hijo, tú siempre estás conmigo, y todo lo mío es tuyo: deberías alegrarte, porque este hermano tuyo estaba muerto y ha revivido; estaba perdido, y lo hemos encontrado."

Comentario Breve

En este capítulo de Lucas, los líderes religiosos critican a Jesús porque se asocia con pecadores y cobradores de impuestos. Esta crítica sirve de introducción a las tres parábolas que siguen, conocidas como las parábolas de la misericordia. Lo que une las tres historias es la alegría que se experimenta cuando encontramos lo que estaba perdido, en este caso, los pecadores y los marginados. La tercera es la más famosa por su contenido y su belleza literaria. En realidad, la historia no es sobre "el hijo pródigo", sino sobre el amor de un padre por sus dos hijos que rompe con todas las costumbres de la época. De acuerdo a la Ley judía, el primogénito recibía el doble de la herencia (Deut 21:17). En este caso, el hijo menor exigió de su padre el tercio que le tocaba y se marchó lejos. Después de despilfarrar su fortuna, la miseria forzó al joven a regresar a la casa paterna, donde fue recibido por el padre con los brazos abiertos. No hay reproches, solamente la alegría de haber recobrado lo que estaba perdido. La parábola continúa narrando la reacción del hijo mayor que hasta se niega a entrar a la casa si su hermano está allí. El padre sale también a buscar a este hijo y le reafirma que todas sus riquezas son suyas, pero a la vez lo anima a que se alegre con él porque su hermano ha sido encontrado.

Jubilee 2025

Papal Bull

La Bula

Tradition dictates that each Jubilee is proclaimed through the publication of a Papal (or Pontifical) ‘Bull of Indiction’. By ‘Bull’ is meant an official document, generally written in Latin, bearing the seal of the Pope, the shape of which gives its name to the document itself.

In the past the seal was usually made of lead and bore, on the front, the image of the Holy Apostles Peter and Paul, founders of the Church of Rome, and, on the back, the name of the current Pontiff. Later an ink stamp replaced the metal seal, which, however, continued to be used for more important documents.

Each Bull is identified by its initial words. For example, Saint John Paul II proclaimed the Great Jubilee of the Year 2000 with the Bull Incarnationis Mysterium (The Mystery of the Incarnation), while Pope Francis proclaimed the Extraordinary Jubilee of Mercy (2015-2016) with the Bull Misericordiae vultus (The face of mercy).

The Bull announcing the Jubilee, which indicates the dates of the beginning and end of the Holy Year, is usually issued the previous year, coinciding with the Solemnity of the Ascension. For the 2025 Jubilee, publication is expected on May 9, 2024.

La tradición dicta que cada Jubileo se proclame a través de la publicación de una Bula Papal (o Bula Pontificia) de convocatoria. Por “Bula” se entiende un documento oficial, generalmente escrito en latín, con el sello del Papa, cuya forma da nombre al documento. Al principio el sello solía ser de plomo y llevaba en el anverso la imagen de los Santos Apóstoles Pedro y Pablo, Fundadores de la Iglesia de Roma, y en el reverso el nombre del Pontífice.

Más tarde, un sello de tinta sustituyó el sello metálico, pero éste se siguió utilizando para los documentos de mayor importancia.

*Cada Bula se identifica por sus palabras iniciales. Por ejemplo, San Juan Pablo II convocó el Gran Jubileo del año 2000 con la Bula Incarnationis mysterium (“El Misterio de la Encarnación”), mientras que el Papa Francisco convocó el Jubileo Extraordinario de la Misericordia (2015-2016) con la Bula Misericordiae vultus (“El rostro de la misericordia”).*

La Bula de convocatoria del Jubileo, en la que se indican las fechas de inicio y fin del Año Santo, suele publicarse el año anterior, coincidiendo con la Solemnidad de la Ascensión. Para el Jubileo del 2025, está previsto que se publique el 9 de mayo de 2024.
